DESK
LUPA

Work should not dominate our lives, so Lupa is a dainty desk ideal for correspondence or focused work but provides little space for mounds of distracting paper work. Lupa's graceful form offers a sleek spot to read important documents or carry out video conferences and can occupy the center of a room or preside in a quiet corner. Lupa has a narrow drawer on each side made of Black Walnut that rotate out from two lacquered surfaces providing just enough space for paper and writing utensils. The center leg features a hidden cable shaft along with two sockets to minimize the clutter of workspace electronics.
