DINING TABLE
KAYAK TEAK

The Kayak dinner table from Gisbert Pöppler is a playful construction of wood and steel. Four glossy circles puncture the table top indicating the cylinders supporting it and interrupt the gentle grain of the surface. The wooden top has a trim that neatly angles outward like a rolled Kayak, while the legs below are joined together with a technical yet sculptural approach reminiscent of the framework for its namesake vessel and can easily sit eight to ten people comfortably.
